INVADER

WASHINGTON

"Thou has most traitorously corrupted the youth of the realm in erecting a grammar-school; and whereas, before, our forefathers had no other books but the score and the tally, thou hast caused printing to be used;
and, contrary to the king,
his crown, and dignity, thou hast built a paper-mill."

William Shakespeare

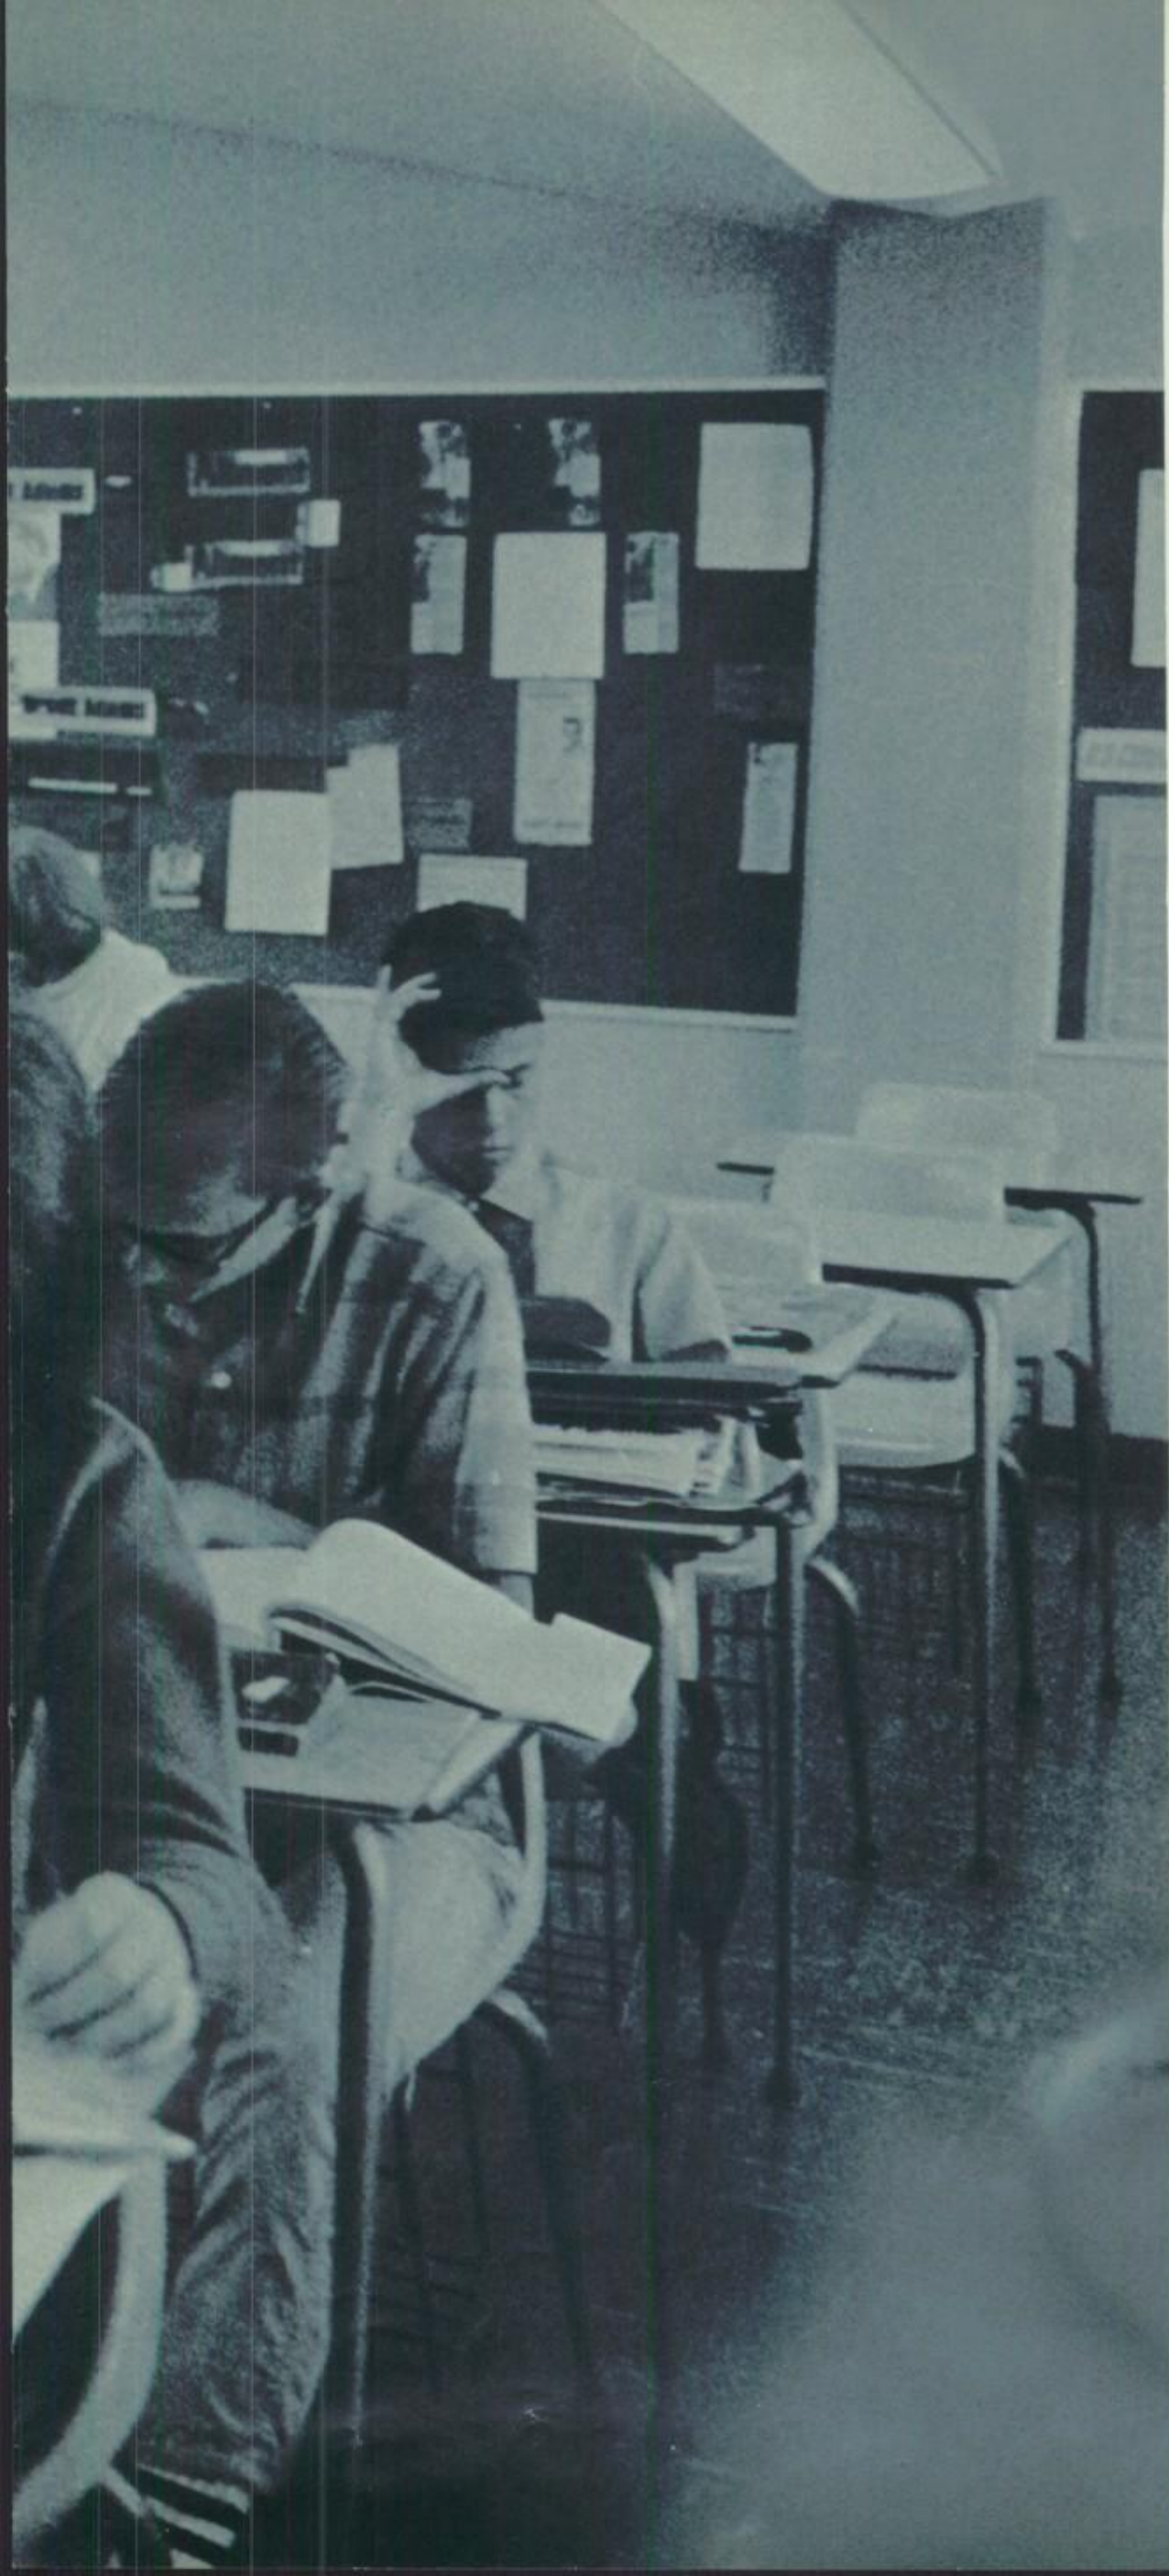

“He too serves a certain purpose who only stands and cheers.”

Henry Brooks Adams

"I consider an human soul without education like marble in the quarry, which shows none of its inherent beauties till the skill of the polisher fetches out the colours, makes the surface shine, and discovers every ornamental cloud, spot and vein that runs through the body of it."

Joseph Addison

“We cannot tell the precise moment when friendship is formed. As in filling a vessel drop by drop which makes it run over; so in a series of kindnesses there is at last one which makes the heart run over.”

James Boswell

"Small service is true service while it lasts. Of humblest friends, bright creature!
scorn not one:

The daisy, by the shadow
that it casts,
Protects the lingering dew-drop from the sun."

THE END AND THE BEGINNING

Two by two we march down the long aisle to the theme of "Pomp and Circumstance." The speaker speaks, but our minds wander thinking of the past twelve years . . . These twelve years represent many things to us seniors, it's the End and the Beginning—The end of the general preparations for the beckoning visions of the future, and the beginning of the precise path. These twelve years have been but a minute towards the hours that will make up the stones of the road through time.

Twelve years represent many hours of study and of excitement, success and failure, with occasions of cheering and occasions of mourning. The bad times, the frustrations and the disappointments will soon evaporate into the mists of the past. But, the strength of these difficult struggles will give us the endurance to meet and overcome the conflicts of the future. What's remembered is the good times, the happy times, the greatest times.

As graduating seniors we face many problems. Where do we go next? Some will go to college, service, many other fields, and some will marry. But no matter what we'll always have one thing in common, of which to be proud, 1967 graduates of Auburn Senior High School.

SENIORS

Serious study and active participation in school activities and sports are the main-stay of senior life.

BUT..... There is another side to the senior's school life. The seniors aren't always the hard, industrious workers they seem to be. They take a few minutes out of their heavy schedules to enjoy the relaxing and entertaining aspects of life. The great seniors are showing the underclassmen what it's like to engage in a "little fun." To some seniors this would mean subdued behavior with friends or a few minutes by themselves. To others it would mean active "horse-play" with fellow students.

One thing was certain — OUR SENIORS (THE CLASS OF 1967) TRULY KNEW HOW TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE VARIED OPPORTUNITIES - FOR FUN - LAID BEFORE THEM!

NEW INSIGHTS ADD TO JUNIOR YEAR

Restless from a busy summer, the juniors returned to A.H.S. with a renewed feeling of reassurance.

During their first week at school, the "seasoned," carefree and enthusiastic juniors took delight in watching the disillusioned sophs struggle to find their way around school.

Increasing responsibilities and obligations confronting juniors were now accepted with a new determination to enable them to prepare themselves as leaders during their senior year.

As examples to the sophomores and others, the juniors displayed their characteristics of good sportsmanship and loyalty to all Trojan fans.

At the close of the year, the juniors are now ready to slip into the roles of mighty seniors who will, as gentlemen and women of Troy, fulfill their roles with a true sense of duty and loyalty.

SOPH'S OFF AND RUNNING

6:45 Time to get out of bed

7:15 Time for breakfast

7:30 Time to catch the bus or begin walking to school

Hesitatingly the sophomores began their long ride or short walk to school. Passing through their wondering minds are memories of their past experiences in junior high and anxious thoughts of entering high school.

Lost, confused, frightened, and bewildered would best describe the expression found on a sophomore's face the first day of school. However, as the weeks disappeared the sophomores began to feel like they, too, were an important part in the life of A.H.S. They found themselves more accustomed to the regular routine which the school presented. With the arrival of first quarter grades most of the sophomores were confident of success at A.H.S.

As Thanksgiving and Christmas approached, the sophomores became more determined to display their appearance and more eager to participate in all school sports and activities. With the advent of the basketball season they became loyal rooters for the "Men of Troy."

Bold by the New Years Resolutions they strived to improve on their fall academic performance.

Finally, with the arrival of spring, the end of the first year at A.H.S. is insight and the sophomores are now looking forward to their second year in high school, as juniors.

ACTIVITIES

GOLDEN ARC OF TRIUMPH

Flickering candlelight, soft flowing water and the always changing beat of the Galaxies greeted couples as they walked through the doors of the "Golden Arc of Triumph."

The atmosphere was further enhanced by the presence of the King and Queen and their royal court. King Dave Michelson and Queen Pat McNeilly reigned over the festivities along with their attendants: Junior Prince and Princess, Jim Cox and Kathy Schumaier; Sophomore Prince and Princess Tim Noah and Gail Morrison.

This was the second year that the Varsity Ball had been held under the sponsorship of the Letterman's Club. With the continued success of the gala affair, all indications point to this being an annual tradition.

WE LOVE YOU CONRAD...

Harmonizing voices of the all girl chorus, aided by the orchestral prelude, ushered in the first Auburn High School musical comedy. Playing for three packed houses, "Bye Bye Birdie" became an immediate success.

Under the direction of Ronald Swift and backed by a cast of 76 members, 40 school musicians, and 30 stage hands, the appreciative audiences responded with enthusiastic appreciation to the songs and actions of the actors and musicians. Much of the play's success could be attributed to the hard work of many committees managed by both faculty members and students. The last hurrah, however, must be given to the students who abandoned their regular school roles to become life-like personalities in the career of Conrad Birdie.

The only question left is — "What could the students and the community look forward to for next fall's musical attraction?"

HARMONY AND RHYTHM

The familiar refrains of "The Star Spangled Banner" began an evening of pleasant listening enjoyment all who attended the annual Auburn school district band concert.

Following the performance of the Cascade and Olympic musicians, the A.H.S. band, under the direction of Roger Lowien, swung into the always lively tune, "The Pride Of The Wolverine," by John Phillip Sousa. Next in order were a variety of tunes taken from "Mary Poppins."

The evening ended with the band playing Osterling and Reinecke's "Prelude to Act V of King Manfred."

CARNABY STREET—A.H.S. SYLE!

Dancing to the beat of Sovereigns was interrupted momentarily throughout the evening by the beat of bongos and ode readings, by Jerry Farley and Bob Huseby. From mod to grubs, students went all out for the dance theme. News was all around, as you were on the dance floor, as the walls consisted of sheets of newsprint. Art work was hung to break the monotony of the black and white newsprint. Brown bottles lined with white candle wax adorned the tables to help convey the coffee house atmosphere. When the music faded and the candles snuffed, the Fringie or Mod came to a swinging end.

IS IT STILL CHRISTMAS?

As the Christmas season approaches, the last week of school before vacation is filled with excitement, eagerness, and great anticipation. This is especially true of the last day when students come dressed in their best clothes and anxiously wait for the day's activities to begin.

Individual classes, beginning with the sophomores and ending with the seniors exchanged the bustling halls of Auburn

Senior High School for the reserved, refined and relaxed atmosphere of the Messiah Lutheran Church — where the 1967 Annual Christmas Assembly took place. As these classes walked to the church, feelings and moods changed. The excitement was now blended with a new seriousness and an eager expectation of the program.

The Processional hymn, with everyone singing, "O Come All Ye Faithful," filled our minds and hearts with Christmas spirit. The several traditional hymns, so often sung at Christmas, enhanced the solemn occasion.

With Mr. Swift's message, "Christmas to Xmas", the estrangement between the true meaning of Christmas and the cheap commercialized meanings, we have now given to Christmas, were presented.

Each member of the audience left asking the question of what Christmas actually meant to him. Was it Christmas or was it Xmas?

CHRISTMAS HAS MEANING

Miserly old Ebenezer Scrooge fell asleep in his dingy quarters one night on Christmas Eve. Three Ghosts, the Ghost of Christmas Past, of Christmas Present, and of Christmas Yet to Come presented visions of wrong-doings of his life in his dreams. When the last vision showed him on his own grave stone, he was wracked with fear and remorse and begged for one more chance; only to wake and find it all a dream. Scrooge attempted to undo all the neglect and wrong-doings by helping his employees to enjoy a Merry Christmas.

The production was well done and displayed the talents of many of Auburn Senior High's drama students.

“HE LOVES ME HE LOVES ME NOT”

Pink rose petals greeted couples as they strolled through the flower laden trellis to attend the Girl's Club Tolo. The atmosphere was one of springtime visions with hanging baskets and daisy bushes, surrounded by pleasant white picket fences.

Presiding over the affair was Queen Corky Lamport and King Bob Suckoll accompanied by the junior-sophomore court: Judy Hart, Junior Princess, Dave Smith, Junior Prince, and Linda Shimojima, Sophomore Princess, and Rick Roach, Sophomore Prince. Pleasant music was provided by Les Walden and the Star Dusters as they added to the springtime atmosphere.

With the pleasant memories of the gay evening carrying with them at the evenings end, students could look forward to next years Tolo.

MELODIOUS TUNES FILLED THE AIR

Entertainment was the prescription filled by the A.H.S.'s concert band, orchestra, and choir during this year's winter presentation. After much time and preparation, each group utilized their skills and talents in making this year's concert an enjoyable and amusing evening for all who attended.

ANOTHER SWIFT PRODUCTION

The everpopular play "Little Women" was this years Spring presentation by the Drama Department. The verpleasing story of a mother and her devotion to her children was the theme of this production.

Under the skillful direction of Mr. Ronald Swift, the characters of Jo, Meg, Amy, Beth, Mammie, Laurie, Professor Bhaer, and John Brook, were again brought to life for the pleasure of an appreciative audience.

From the moments of wild romping play to the more serious moments, the play was an obvious success.

A.S.B. LEADERS

As set up in the ASB Constitution there are four major elected officers that comprise the student leadership of A.H.S. Ken Embery, ASB President headed the Associated Student Body organization. He was in charge of calling Board of Control meetings, appointing committees, presiding at Student Loan meetings; and in general presided over the student activities. Ron Murakami, the ASB Vice-President had the responsibility - of calling Senate meetings, and he assisted the President when necessary. The ASB Secretary, Corine Okura, was responsible for carrying out standard secretarial duties in the form of Senate minutes, correspondence, and publicity. The final office of ASB Treasurer was held by Steve Sprenger. He was responsible for keeping an accurate account of the ASB along with athletic accounts and the funds of all student organizations.

TRI-HIGH A MAJOR DECISION

In conjunction with the Student Council, the Board of Control makes up the agendas suggesting necessary committees to work on the years plans and problems and to promote school activities.

Tri-High Council was one of this year's major decisions for Auburn's Board of Control. The purpose of Tri-High is the exchanging of students between Kent, Auburn, and Federal Way High Schools.

A.S.B. REPRESENTATIVES

In previous years Student Council was an organization whose main function was to co-ordinate class and club activities. Through the years it has progressed into an organization which initiates projects. It also has developed into a group which attempts to bring the entire student body into student government. Individuals are encouraged to contribute ideas to Student Council in order to improve certain aspects of the school. Student Council is a representative body designed to serve the student and the school.

MONEY! LENDER

Loan funds help the college bound. Loans are open to many students, who need financial help, through the Student Loan. Members of this group have the responsibility of deciding how and to whom the funds should be distributed.

PART OF REPRESENTING YOU

Responsibility for initiating the discussion and the operation of various ideas and projects is the position of the Small Senior Council. After initial discussion and planning has taken place, it is then the role of the Small Council to present these matters to the Large Council.

Members of the Large Council, who directly represent Senior Class members and various organizations, further discuss the ideas and projects by the Small Council - taking final action to accept or reject various proposals.

Finally, responsibilities are delegated to individuals for organization and establishment.

HARD WORKERS REAP HONORS

One must be a hard worker to maintain a 3.5 grade point average in A.H.S.. Some students have chosen this route to success and put forth the effort to be a member of the Honor Society. These people are the leaders of our school today, and will be the leaders and businessmen of tomorrow.

DEBATERS IMPROVE IN COMPETITION

The Debate team has seen a year of great progress. Most of the members on the team were inexperienced in debating; however, many of the beginners did very well in varsity competition.

The Debate team, like any other team, competes among schools in the Puget Sound League, and the top two schools from each division go to state.

To be a winning debater is a full-time job! The debating season lasts the entire year. At the beginning of the season debaters must undergo extensive review of the resolution; they must stay up to date in current events and continually review. At the beginning of the season, it is not too difficult to win without a great amount of preparation, but as the season continues, all the debaters become highly polished in their speaking ability and very knowledgeable in the topic.

ATHLETICS & SCHOLARSHIP

Athletes of Auburn High School are the leaders of many of the prominent school organizations. They promote school spirit on the field and off. If they are playing basketball, they try to do their best and display only the good qualities of an Auburn High School student and athlete. When presiding over an organizational meeting, they are respected by other members of the club and are well-equipped for carrying on legislation of that particular organization.

A WELCOME TO ALL GIRLS

Every girl in Auburn High School is a member of Girls' Club. Its purpose is to unite all girls in serving the school and the community. Many girls work to develop leadership and promote co-operative team work and friendliness.

Girls' Club tries many fund raising projects. The money earned is used to send one girl to Girls' State and to provide a scholarship fund.

The Cabinet is composed of thirteen members of Girls' Club and three officers. These girls are chairman of Girls' Clubs varied activities — hotdogs and candy sales, girl of the month, and ways and means.

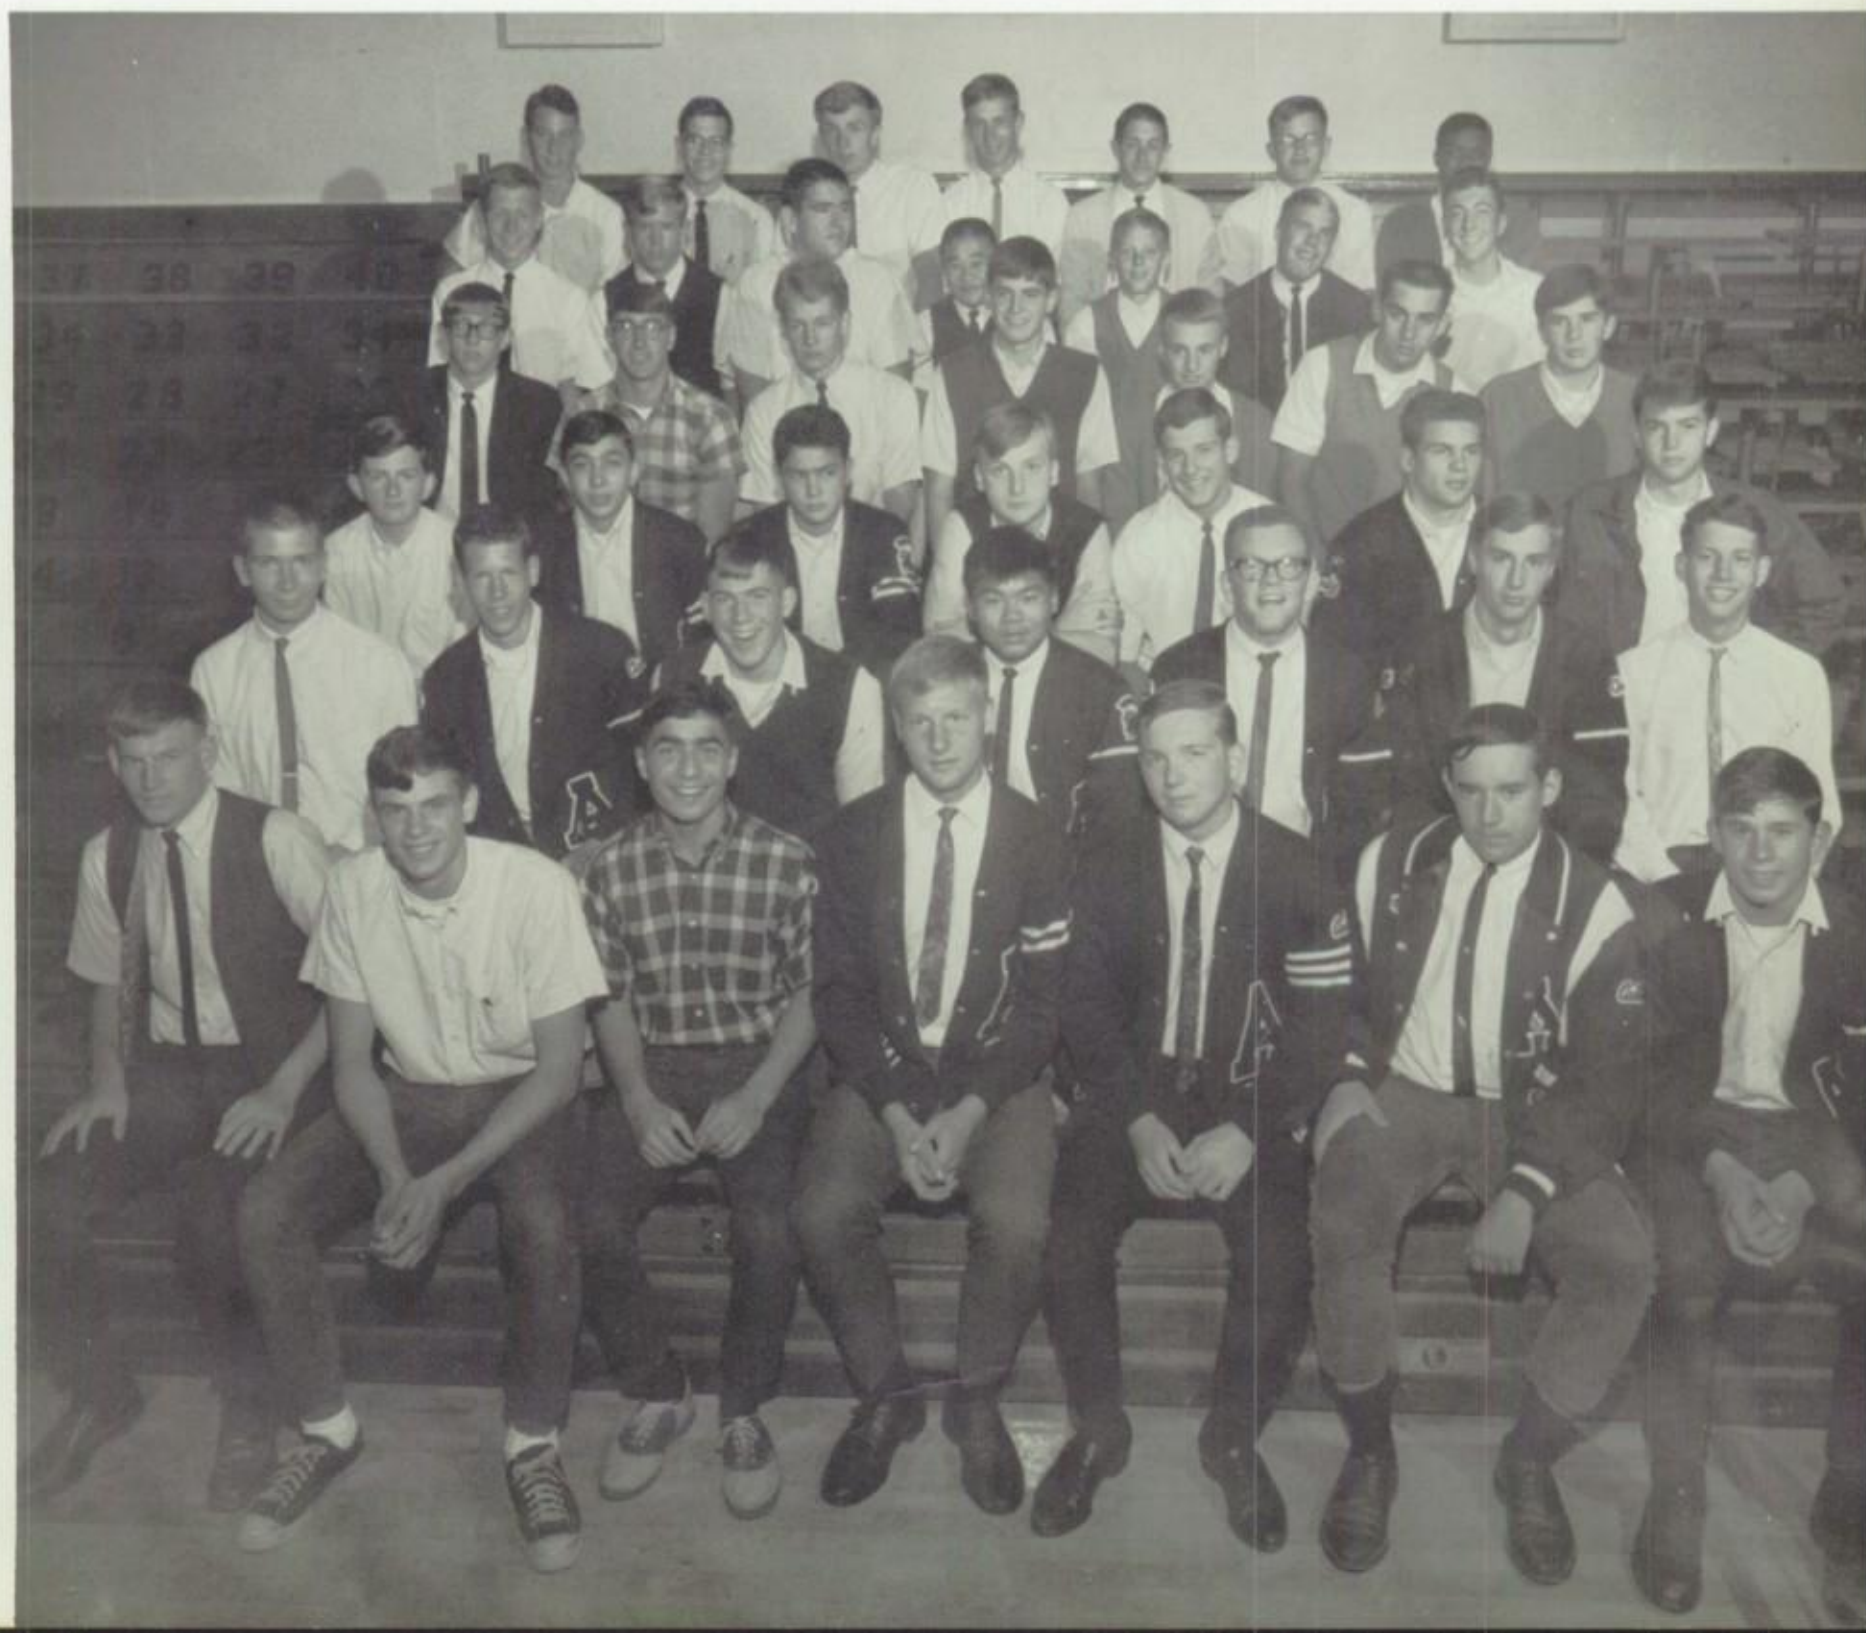

One activity that each girl anxiously awaits is that of girl of the month. This is honored to one girl each month for her outstanding quality in a particular field.

FUN OR FUND RAISING

Thursday is sweatshirt day for Auburn Senior High School's Key Club members. This group of fund-raising, fun-loving young men could always be depended upon throughout the year for providing surprise entertainment, organizing an annual football banquet, or providing other school services. Kiwanis know this club is worthy of recognition and show their feelings by inviting two members of Key Club to lunch every other Thursday. Key Club showed they were worthy of this recognition by serving the school and the community in 1966-1967.

IN KEEPING WITH SPIRIT

Since green and white are our school colors, it is only natural that the students should study from green and white covered books, write with green and white pens, and put papers in green and white pee chees. Keeping the school supplied with these spirit items is the job of Commercial Club.

RESPONSIBILITY IS FIRST

The responsibility of Green Peppers is serving the school and the community. It encourages individual participation and responsibility through its varied activities. The girls give of themselves and their time in serving at banquets, selling pop and coffee at games, giving a Christmas tea for the faculty, decorating the Christmas tree for the student center, and other club projects. The club furthers leadership by sponsoring a Girls' State candidate. It provides an educational opportunity by giving a scholarship to one of its members. Green Peppers is a fun-rich fellowship of girls who, through their activities, learn cooperation and experience the joy of serving others.

GUIDING HANDS FOR TOMORROW

Teaching is a spirited profession at Auburn High School. Forty girls have shown a desire to become teachers in our growing society. These people are needed drastically to guide the younger generation to their goals.

WHO PAINTED ALL THE SIGNS

Cheering is not a job just for cheer leaders; it is the responsibility of the whole student body. The Pep Club has promoted school spirit at games and during school by pre-game preparations, including painting signs and following vigorously cheers lead by our cheer leaders.

GIRLS DISPLAY MARCHING TALENTS

The purpose of drill team is to provide entertainment and services benefiting the school, the community, and the drill team members. These services are determined by the officers in conjunction with the drill team advisor.

This year's drill team activities included car washes, bottle drives, bake sales, rummage sales; and marching at football games, basketball games and the Veteran's Day parade.

THE RACE IS ON!

With the drawing of posters, petitioning, and giving of speeches, the race was on for the class, club, and A.S.B. offices. Spirited competition was displayed among office candidates and conveyed to the A.S.B. audience as elections entered the final stages. Stiff competition for all the offices captivated the audience during the campaigns and made the election results uncertain until the reading of the ballots at class night!

Girls vie for Girls' Club offices.

BASKETBALL?

An athletic association for all girls in high school is G.A.A. Included in the program are three areas: volleyball, basketball, and badminton. The classes compete against each other for the championship in each area. To see the sophomores battling against the juniors and seniors is pure amusement.

In fact, the sport most people refer to as basketball looks more like tackle football. As we watch one going in for a lay-in, the girls see the "backboard" and throw the ball as hard as they can without looking for the "hoop." Then they stand there in agony wondering why it didn't go in and where the ball is now.

This is only a mere description of basketball. One should see the mighty girls of Troy compete in badminton and volleyball.

ASSISTANTS AID SECRETARIES

"Good Morning, Auburn Senior High School, may I help you?" The buzzing of switch boards and the clattering of typewriters give background harmony to the student secretaries as they work to keep A.H.S. in tune with the outside world. This strategically located room is the center of varied activity; from teachers walking by to run off dittos and talk to Mr. Hostetter and Mr. Lea; student secretaries reviewing shorthand in a few off moments, to Mrs. Bykonen calling out her familiar phrase — "Attention please; attention please." The main office is truly the main heart beat of Auburn Senior High School.

AND MRS. STRUVE

They're off! At the beginning of each period two or three students are off from their starting blocks in the east end of the main hall to dart from door to door picking up attendance slips. Then down the back stretch to return the daily slips to Mrs. Struve's "attendance office?" Attendance collection is over, the workers settle down to the more calm routine of counting money, recording absentees, talking over the latest frustrations with Mrs. Struve and enjoying the background music(?) from KOL or KJR.

OUR LAST DEADLINE

"Do you want to put a yearbook out this year, or don't you? I hope you know your deadline is . . ." these are among Mr. Stewart's frantic phrases, as he and the annual staff struggled to produce the "1967 Invader." After the first few weeks of school we began to understand the yearbook's idea. By the semester we knew the relationship between layout, copy, and photography. Finally, our last deadline was in, but we weren't done yet! Back we went to the drawing board to lay the plans for the "1968 Invader". As June arrived our dreams unfolded. We finally had tangible evidence of our work. We are all glad of the hard work we put into it. The door shuts behind us, as we end the last chapter of this year's work. As we leave, we feel a deep sense of accomplishment.

Editor: Carolyn Dalisky

Adviser: Mr. Stewart

TRUMPET IN BUSINESS

"Where is the Trumpet?" Was the question asked by many A.H.S. students at the beginning of the year as the lack of the student newspaper was noted by many classmates. In a short time however, under the direction of Mr. Rosin and Larry Coffman (of the Seattle Times) the Trojan Trumpet was back in business. Whether it be an upcoming dance, some new academic achievement or a personal thought, a staff member was always ready to include this in the Trumpet. News is everywhere, and faithfully the Trumpeters were there also, reporting the events accurately and in detail. Through their dedicated work, lines of communication between students, and students and teachers remained open.

STUDENT GOES ABROAD

International friendship and understanding are the goal of the Foreign Exchange Club. This goal is achieved through correspondence and the sponsorship of exchange programs. For the year 1966-67 Karen Morse received the honor of visiting another land. Unfortunately, due to a lack of funds and other problems the foreign exchange club was unable to sponsor an exchange student this year. Hopes are high however that one will be here in 1967-68.

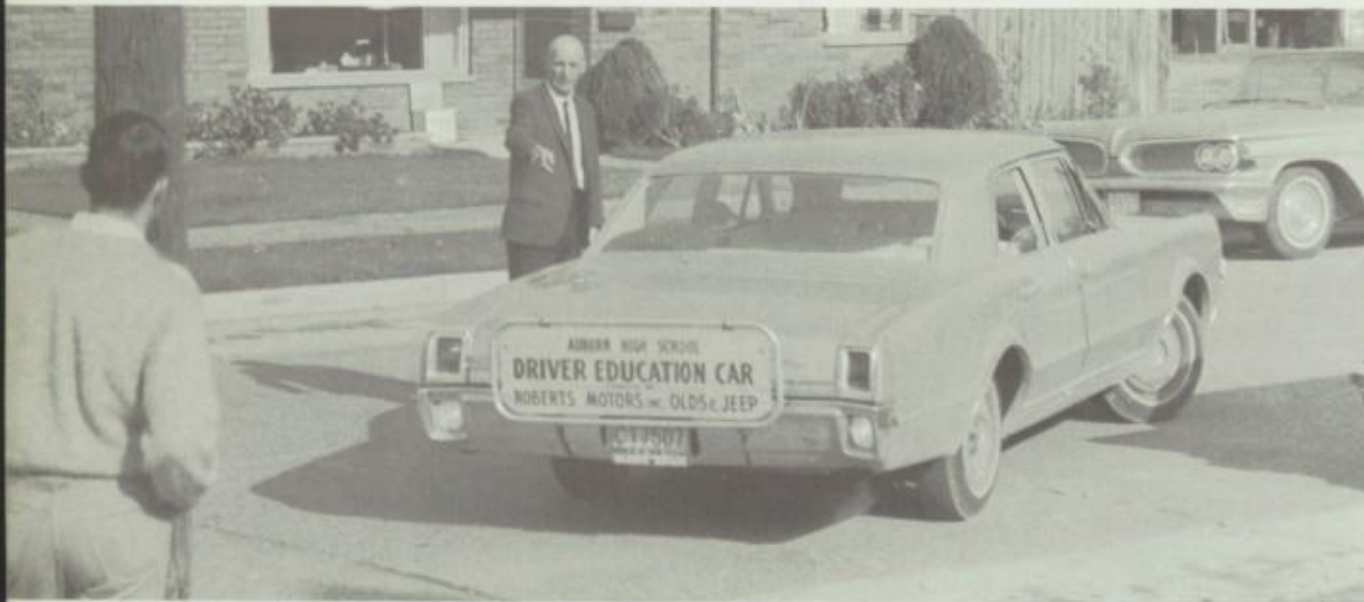

ACTING IS PROMISING

Willingness to work and participate, and an interest in Dramatics are the requisites for membership in the Drama Club. Through involvement in the Drama Club, students are given chances to participate in productions throughout the school year. Through the annual Fall, Christmas and Spring Plays, and the Senior one act play, plus the readers' theater many students are able to persue their dramatic interest either on stage or off.

STOP!

Nerves of steel and calmness in the presence of frustration sum up and best define the roles of the drivers education teachers. Mr. Cerino and Mr. Galli are responsible for teaching various elements of being safe drivers. Whether it be Mr. Galli saying "Palm up lever down" or Mr. Cerino with his leg resting against the dashboard ready to throw in the clutch and stomp on the break, the drivers education teachers are always ready to help the neophyte drivers.

I SAID TO STOP!

Upon receiving a traffic violation, it is the prerogative of a student to have the citation turned over to the A.H.S. traffic court. Through the court offenders are judged by their peers and subsequent action dealt to them.

WHOOSH!

A lust for clean cool mountain air and the feeling of swishing down the open slopes of a snow crest mountain are some of the reasons many A.H.S. students have chosen the Ski Club as part of their extra-curricular activities. A member of this club will tell you the thrill of sliding down a slope of flakey snow caressed by the evening sun at 45 m.p.h. is a feeling that can not be expressed in word although they all have it. Throughout the past season the A.H.S. Ski Club enjoyed many joyfilled hours of climbing slopes in our own area.

SILENCE!

Rustling paper, scratchy pens and hushed voices provide the background for staff workers in our library. Under the guidance of Mr. Reep and Miss White, the Library staff members dutifully perform their daily tasks of checking out books and periodicals and returning other materials to their proper places on the shelves.

“OVER AND OUT”

Chattering voices and static greet visitors as they approach the complex of electronic equipment in the small room in the back of Mr. Cowles' chemistry class. Students conversing with ham operators and receiving conversations from far away stations provide an interesting pastime for students in the radio club of A.H.S.

CHECKMATE

Maneuvering small pieces of hand carved wood or plastic around a black and red checked board provides entertainment for some A.H.S. students. It is difficult and takes much mental concentration to maneuver pieces around a board to stay out of checkmate and at the same time achieve victory over your opponents. This year the chess club has provided many opportunities for chess enthusiasts to practice their game and to then go against competition from other schools.

“CREATING”

Beauty can be seen in words, photographs or by the individual. However, it is hard to create beauty. The A.H.S. Art Club this year has pooled individual ingenuity and imagination to synthesize beauty. Seeing the art club members around town was not unusual as they painted signs and pictures in windows for businesses during holidays such as Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. It is hoped that through this club, students will gain an esthetic feeling for art and culture in general and that more classmates will have a chance to reveal some of their individual talents.

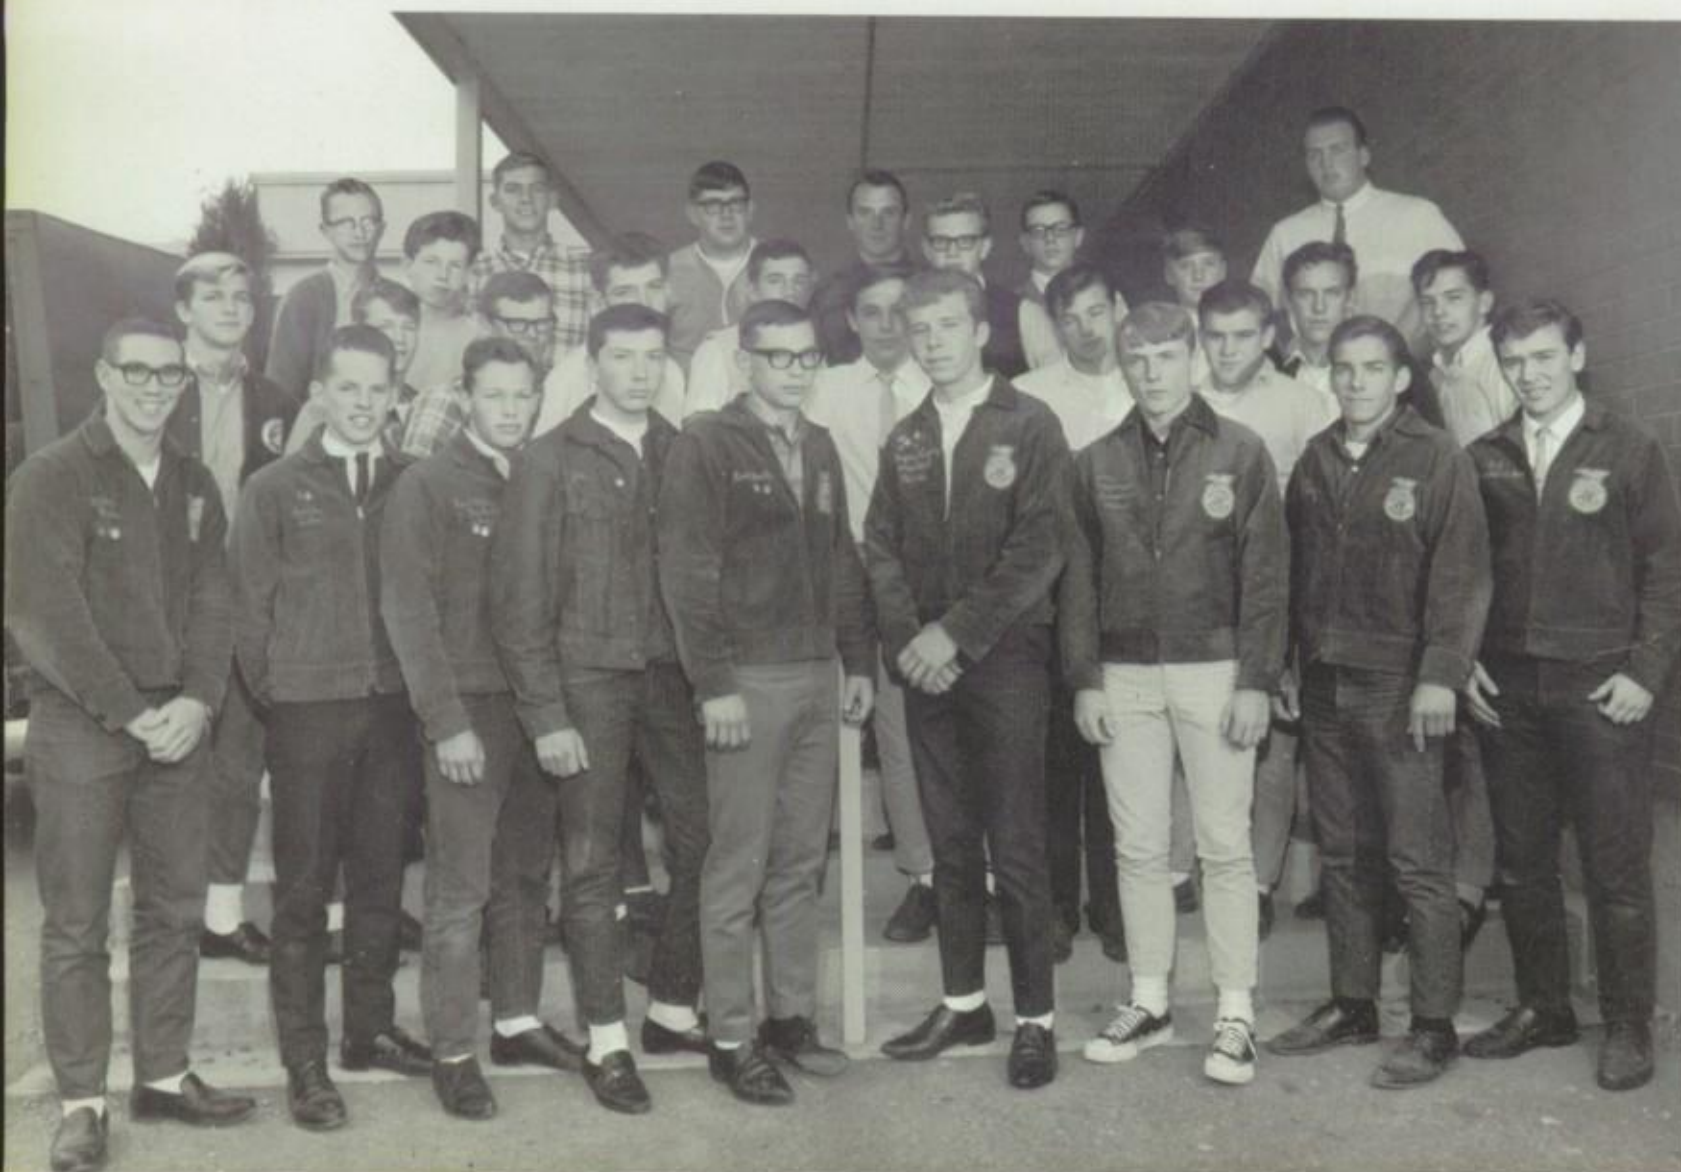

PRESS ADDS ZEST

The steady hum of the "new" printing press gave strength to the Graphic Arts students as they went about the job of turning out sports and activity programs, the Trojan Trumpet, and other material needed by various departments of the school. From taking pictures, processing them, to delivering the finished product, the responsibilities of their jobs were performed with enthusiasm.

The big hope being that eventually this department can improve itself in order to turn out the summer supplement of the annual.

STUDENTS PREPARE FOR FUTURE

Feeding people in the future is going to be a major problem. Many students at A.H.S. have taken advantage of this situation to prepare for them a future of unlimited promise. They have learned methods of propagation, production and harvest improvements as well as breeding practices which will better the supply of food for a hungry nation. With their F.F.A. background, the boys hope to become active and successful farmers in the future.

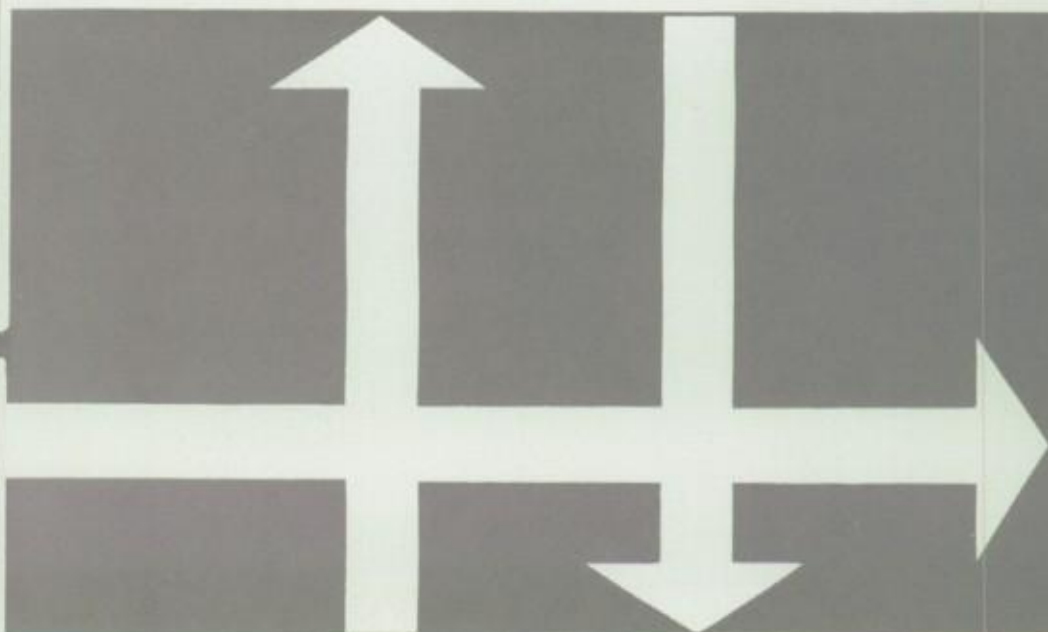

CANDY-STRIPERS AID SICK

Telling a patient to say "Ah", is not the only thing a nurse must do as a member of Auburn's F.N.A. Through practical experience and extra curricular study, these girls are preparing themselves for the future in an occupation which has a bright outlook. Success is only achieved by those who don't mind putting forth the necessary effort.

PROJECTIONISTS WORK HARD

Whirling of film reels and a thin thread of light projecting an image on a white backboard are everyday sightings of an Audio Visual member as they show films all over the school to classes of many varied interests. It is the job of these few individuals to set up and show these films on time because of a tight schedule based on a shortage of projectors. The students in this class have done a fine job in carrying out their task this year.

VICTORY IS OUR CRY!

Enthusiasm and determination were two outstanding qualities of Auburn's 1967 pep staff. Wherever they went these sixteen young ladies spread their enthusiastic spirit among the crowds. Pep assemblies and athletic events wouldn't be complete without their leadership. Win lose or tie, the "Women of Troy" were always in the limelight leading A.H.S. to victory and good sportsmanship

GO TROJANS!

Here they come! The fighting Trojans take the field! Win, lose or draw, the over-enthusiastic fans are assured of a fast-moving, hardhitting battle.

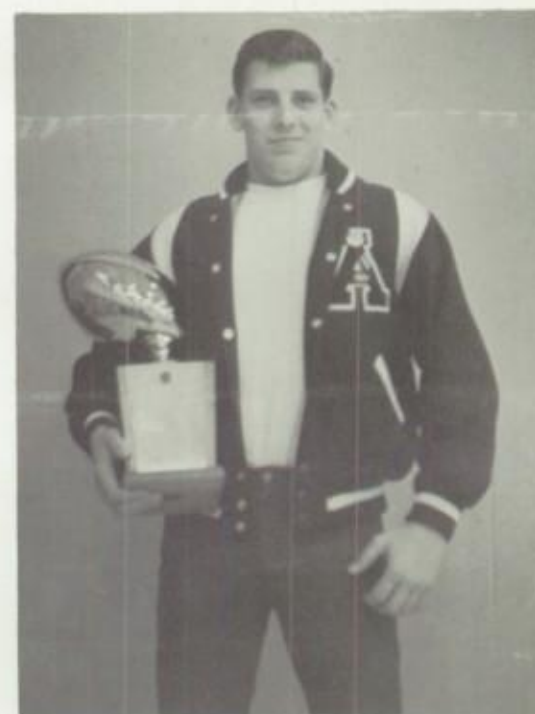

This year, the Auburn football team began with a disappointing defeat at the hands of the defending P.S.L. champions, the Kent Royals. But as the season wore on, the Men of Troy became increasingly aggressive and determined as they trimmed such teams as Lakes, Tyee and Lake Washington.

Auburn football teams have always been quite aggressive. And again this year we were proud to hear that we were one of the hardest hitting teams in the district. This fact was an example of Auburn's fine defensive qualities.

Besides getting honorable mentions by various newspapers, many senior gridders received applications from various universities and colleges. These schools showed definite interest in the abilities of these fine players.

GYMNASTS IN ACTION

GYMNASTICS AS A SPORT

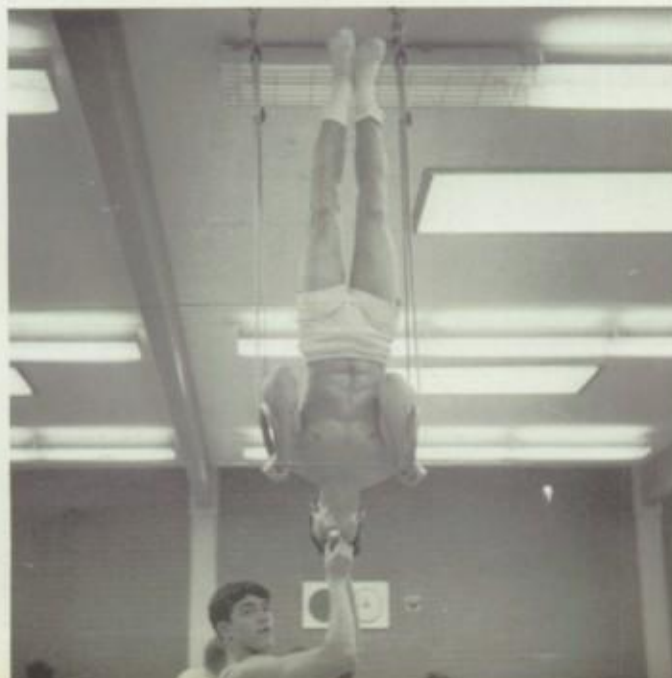

Though gymnastics is not a major competitive sport in our league, it brings out athletic qualities which can be found in every major sport. Girls and boys alike strive for better coordination and strength.

Besides being a sport, gymnastics is also an elective class and, therefore, each participant receives a grade. The apparatus include the horse, horizontal bars, rings, parallel bars, and trampoline. Floor routines as well as fitness tests are also required.

Girls, as well as boys, find themselves in a most desirable atmosphere. For the young lady, gymnastics offers a graceful, figure-forming opportunity. For the fellows, it offers a healthy, muscle-building course. For these reasons, gymnastics is a healthy way to gain physical fitness and should be recognized as a highly skilled sport.

BEST SEASON IN TWENTY YEARS

ONLY LOSSES GO TO STATE TOURNAMENT TEAMS

The Auburn Trojans had their finest basketball season in twenty years. Not only did they win fifteen games, but their only losses were to teams which later qualified for the state tournament. Their 15 win and 3 loss record gave the hoopsters second place in the P.S.L. southern division, and sent them to the play-offs where they attempted to secure a spot in the state tournament. But after beating Glacier in the opener, the Trojans were knocked from the running by second-ranked Renton.

There was plenty of depth in the squad this season. Seniors Jim Winkler, Dale Birchler, Joe Fioretti, Ron DeWitt, and Chet Latham provided the experience that a championship ball club must have. The leading scorer was Ron DeWitt with a 14 point average, followed closely by Jim Winkler.

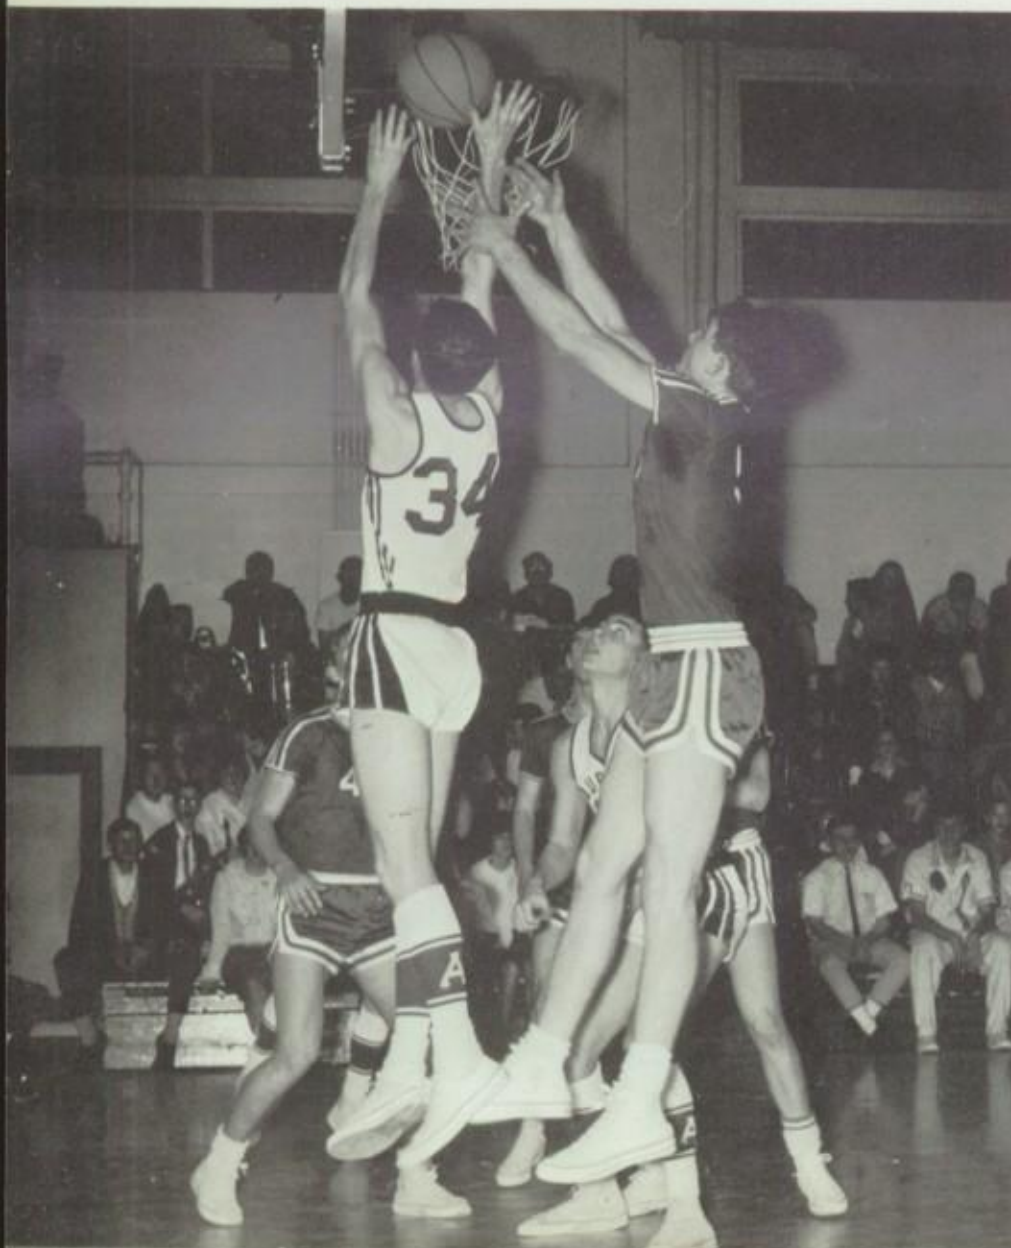

Latham gets two more.

Sheehan shoots gracefully.

Trojans battle Pierce for rebound.

MATMEN SHARE LEAGUE TITLE GRADUATION TAKES THREE SENIOR CHAMPS

For the first time in Auburn wrestling history, our grapplers shared a co-championship in the Puget Sound League. Not only was this their highest wrestling finish, but also the first time since 1958 that an Auburn team has shared a league title.

The season record was a sizzling 14 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie, with the only league loss going to Renton. Though each varsity wrestler must be commended, special recognition should go to sophomores Dan Sloan and Rick Roach. Both boys placed at the state tournament in Ellensburg.

Next year's season looks very promising, but graduation will take its annual toll. Many seniors, including sub-district champs Libadia, Noah, and Luce, will be lost through the June ceremonies. And the efforts of such grapplers as Randy Noah, who placed at state for three consecutive years, will long be remembered. But graduation is a fact that all coaches must face. Coach Cerino, whose strategy has been so successful, will surely fill the gaps with strong and deserving competitors.

SLOAN PLACES 2ND IN STATE

NOAH MAKES 3RD APPEARANCE

Senior Randy Noah wrestled for Auburn for the last time when he took third place at the state tournament. As a sophomore, Randy took fourth place at the tournament. Last year, as a junior, he took second. Randy's championship hopes were foiled this year when he suffered one defeat at the tournament, even though he later went on to take third.

ROACH TAKES THIRD PLACE

Rick Roach, another sophomore sensation, took an undisputed third place at the state tournament. His only defeat was to the man whom he later pinned for third place. In the picture above are (L-R): Roach, Auburn, Kondo, John Rogers; Van Noy, Centralia; and Heaton, Curtis.

AUBURN PLACES FIFTH IN STATE

LUCE, SLOAN, ROACH, AND NOAH WRESTLE TO FIFTH PLACE FINISH

Coached by Eugene Cerino, the Auburn wrestling team placed fifth at the state wrestling tournament in Ellensburg. After taking four championships at Sub-district, the Auburn team went to District where it also placed high. Then, with four wrestlers still eligible, the Trojan team went to the state finale.

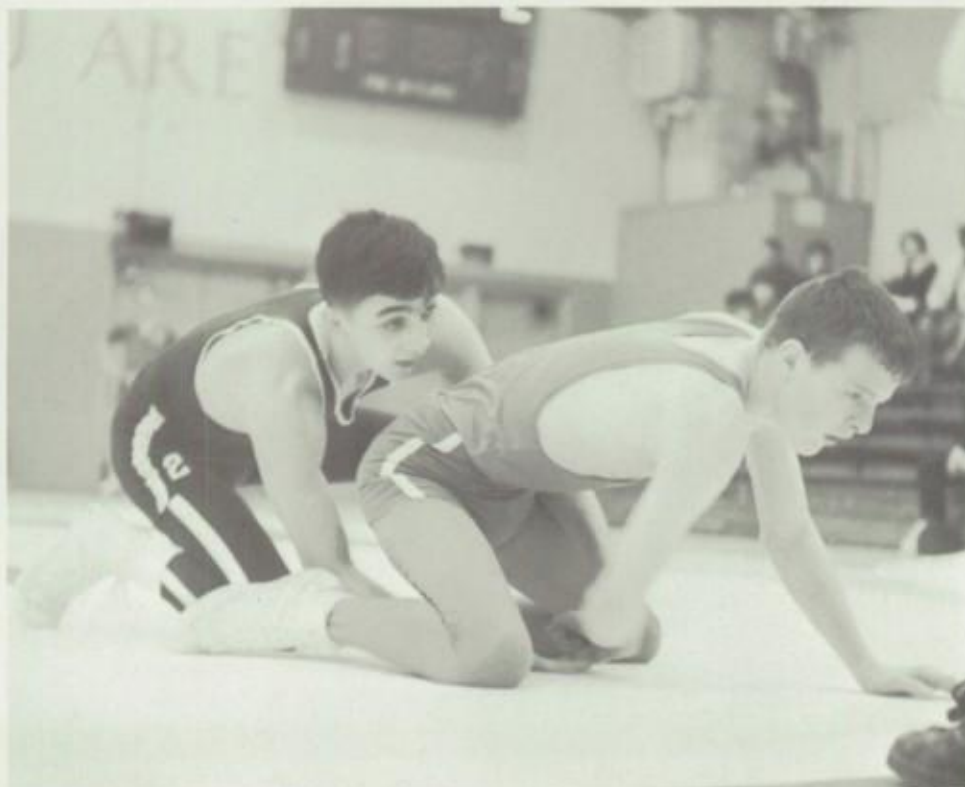

Seniors Rod Luce and Randy Noah, and sophomore Rick Roach and Dan Sloan were the Auburn contestants. When the tournament ended, Rod Luce had finished fifth; Randy Noah, third; Dan Sloan, second; and Rick Roach, third. When team points were totaled at the tournaments end, Auburn rated fifth in the state of Washington.

A TIME FOR REFLECTION

The year has finally come to an end, and behind me I leave both the happy and the disillusioned days spent working on Auburn Senior High's Invader.

As a Junior, I wanted to be a part of the Invader Staff, not only because I considered it a class in which an easy "A" could be received, but a class which would involve little work and definitely no assignments. However, my ideas were soon shattered when I was confronted with copy, layouts, typing, and business work.

Then the big year began. The first week of school I was questioned about such terms as the previously mentioned ones, particularly in relationship to the production of an annual. As each day progressed I became more familiar with the ingredients that comprise an annual, and my confidence increased.

Now as the final page of the annual is entered, and my job stands completed, I can honestly and truly say that being a part of the Invader Staff has been a worthwhile experience. My only hope is that the annual means as much to each of you as it does to me. In the process of producing the yearbook, I have learned things and known people that under different circumstances would have been impossible. For that knowledge and those relationships I am thankful.

To the Invader Staff of 1968, my best wishes are that you may have an enjoyable year and produce a satisfying book. Producing an annual involves hard work, but work that each of you will later be proud of knowing that you were once a member of the staff.

To the Sophomores and Juniors who remain behind: I hope you have as much fun in high school as I have had, as high school can really be wonderful if given half a chance.

To you, the Seniors: I wish you continued success in the years to come, and I hope that in the future we may be able to look back upon our high school years as the beginning of a life-long friendship.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Stewart, our adviser, for giving us the special assistance we so often needed and for boosting our courage in expressing his faith in each of us.

A special thanks goes to Mr. Mel Schell and Harta Studio for their artistic photography and never ending patience.

Also a special thanks goes to all members of the Invader Staff who helped to make our book a success. Without them the production of a yearbook would have been impossible.

AN EVENING OF PROMOTION

Sparked by the introductory speech of Ken Embery and the presentation of class officers, the annual Auburn High class night got off to a rousing start.

Adding to the evening's entertainment was the "Rebound" slides and music provided by the "Alive and Lovin'" band that interrupted the evening's events and added variety to the evening's entertainment.

Highlighting the evening was the giving away of Cheer leader positions and A.S.B. offices.

By the evening's end all present were excited to see next year's activities get off to an immediate success with the newly elected officers.

Next year's A.S.B. officers: Kathy Moregli, Treasurer; Debbie Barlow, Vice President; Steve Arms, President; and Dianne Scarff, Secretary.

1968 Sr. Class officers: Pat Kelley, Kathie Schumaier, JoAnn Washam, Brad Loan.
New Cheerleaders are introduced.

Ken Embery introduces this year's club presidents, who announce new officers.

Mary Whitlock is chosen a cheerleader.

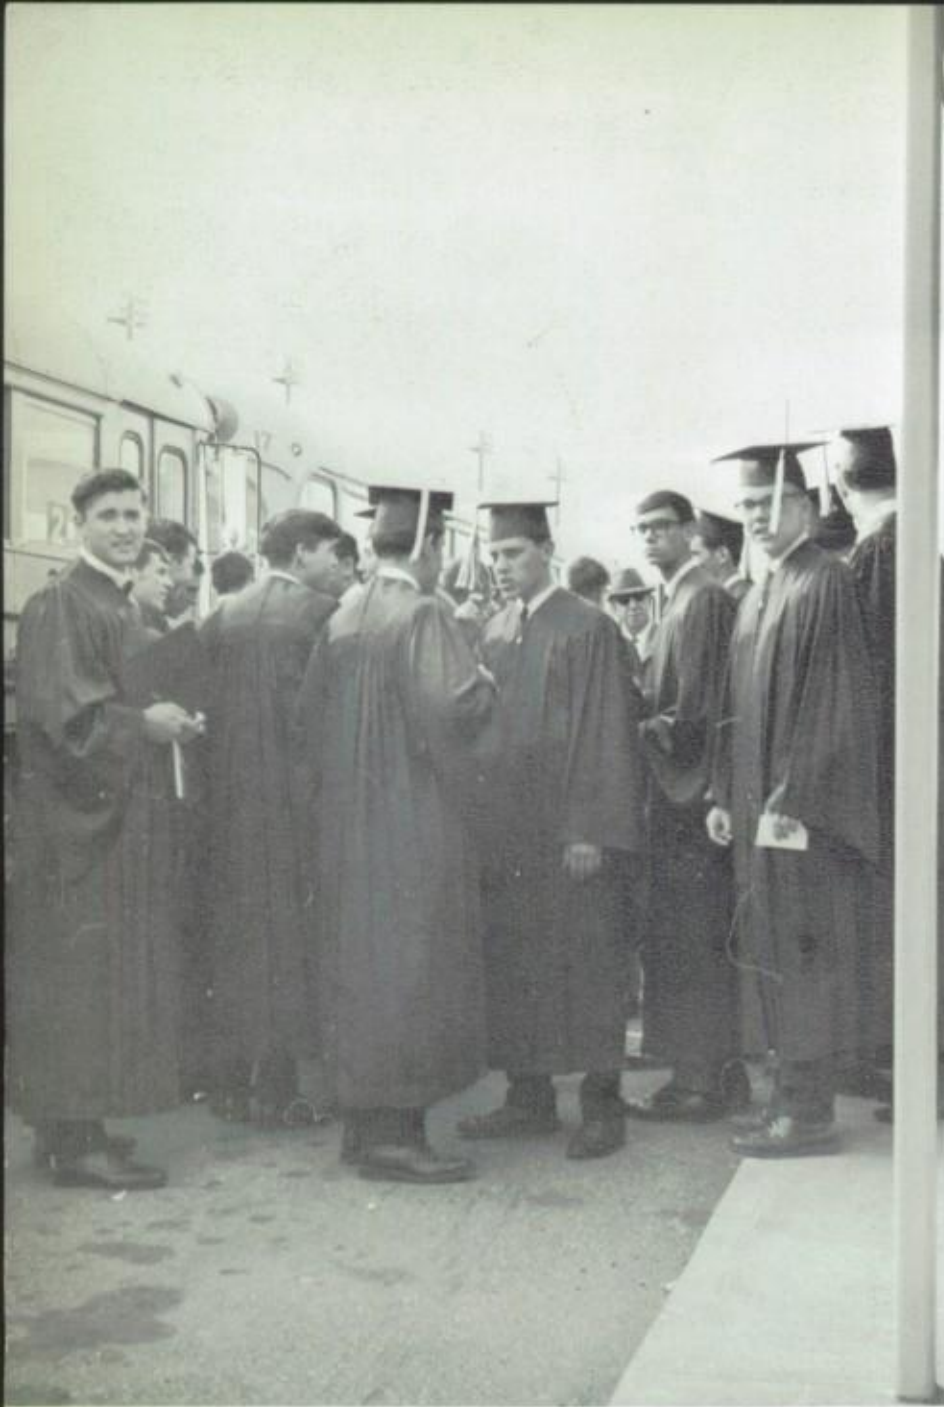

SENIORS SAY- GOOD BYE!

Calm and relaxed would have best described this year's seniors as they left the high school for the last time to participate in graduation exercises at the Auburn Academy.

All eyes were focused on the happy seniors as they advanced, two by two, down the aisle. With the arrival and final preparations of the graduation ceremonies, the atmosphere became intensified as the graduates sensed the completion of a long journey.

Once in place, the evening's activities proceeded with speeches given by representatives of the senior class; Kathy Hartman, Joe Fioretti, and Mack Lievense, Senior Class President. Presenting the benediction was Reverend Ralph Wood. FINALLY—the fateful moment arrived. One by one the seniors walked forward to receive a tangible piece of evidence of twelve years of hard work — AND THEN IT WAS OVER!

Mixed emotions were expressed on the faces of the graduates as they marched back down the aisle and said their last good-byes.

FOR SENTIMENTAL REASONS

Blue and silver carnations hanging from the trellis, greeted couples entering the Rainier Room in the Seattle Center to an evening of dining and dancing. The plush setting of the Seattle Center, with the domineering beauty of the Space Needle, provided the background for Auburn's first off-campus prom in many years. Following the evening's dinner, couples danced to the music of Monty Kiel and observed the coronation of the prom's royal court: King and Queen Jim Winkler and Linda Baerny, Prince and Princess Wendy Hegre and Dave Schwartz, Diane Gaines and Steve Libadia.

As a break from the crowded dance floor, couples were free to wander through the varied scenic attractions of the center. Following the dance some couples stayed to view the sights and sounds of nightlife in Seattle. For all it was a night of pleasure that would long be remembered.
